

CAT ALERT

Torrential rain and thunderstorms hit parts of Northland, Auckland and tracking towards Waikato and Coromandel.

This morning Auckland recorded one of its wettest hours on record as a major thunder and lightning storm caused widespread flooding and chaos across the northern regions. More than 4000 lightning strikes have been recorded in one hour - with 700 in just five minutes.

Emergency services have been inundated with reports of flooding hundreds of Aucklanders and Northlanders are without power. The severe weather is now tracking down the North Island.

As a result of this damaging weather, we are mobilising resources as much as we can to assist with Priority 1 claims and emergency work. We will comply with strict Health and Safety measures which will include appropriate PPE, a COVID questionnaire prior to attending any sites, contact tracing and social distancing at site.

We are using our virtual desktop services where possible, complemented by our video streaming technology, ConnectMeLIVE where possible.

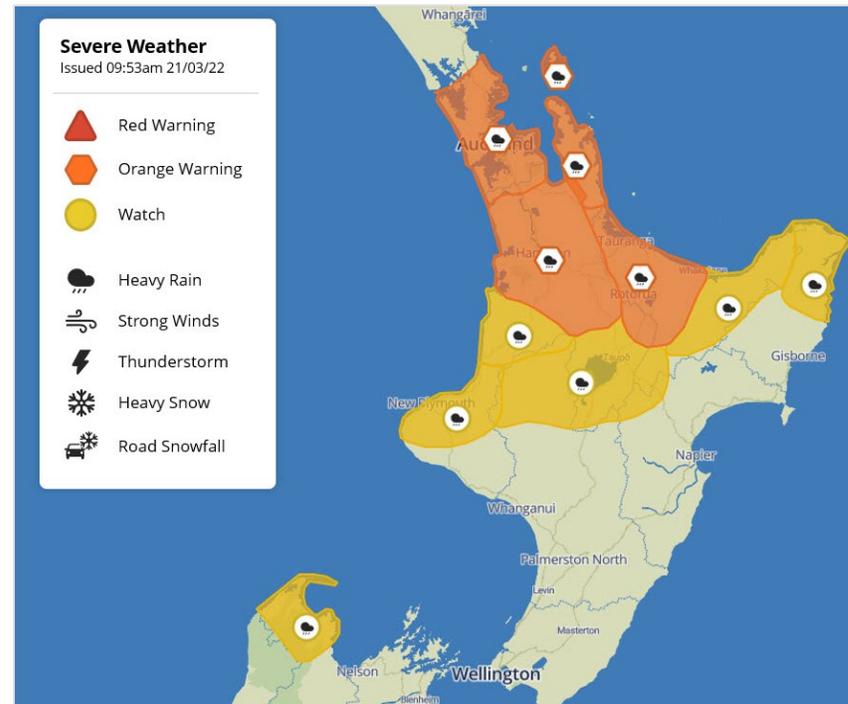

Mode is on standby to undertake make-safe and emergency works.

We're prepared and ready to assist, whatever the situation.
